

Race #7 - Rating = 2

#8 Oscillator - Fair odds 3/1

#2 Only Josie Knows - Fair odds 7/2

#4 Mum's Truckee - Fair odds 7/2

If you want to go deeper, use #1 Doodetta, hoping she rebounds to the form shown one before last when winning, her only good race in five starts.

Oscillator goes for her 3rd straight win, the most recent here at Del Mar 3 weeks ago in easy fashion at the trip. Although the win came at the 12,500 level she has the back class to step into the first allowance condition against open company, having won at the same level versus Cal-Breds last December. Trujillo rides her well and she's only been worse than 2nd one time in 5 tries at Del Mar to boot. Only Josie Knows also defeated Cal-Breds at the level in her career, three back in August. Desormeaux rode her then but not in her 2 defeats since so with Kent getting back on she's got a fine shot to succeed again. Mum's Truckee came back from 8 months off in July to miss by a half-length under identical conditions over the track then stretched out and ran poorly. Rested 2 months she came back in a turf sprint and finished 4th and today adds blinkers while moving back to Polytrack where she came close during the summer, so she rounds out the main trio of contenders here.

Follow Me on Twitter @Ubercapper

Read my weekly feature race analysis every Friday at Equibase.com by clicking on the MORE link on the home page.

Listen to me 3-7 pm(ET) Friday on the Xpressbet Weekend Stakes Preview Show broadcast on the Horse Racing Radio Network - Sirius220/XM 206 & at streamed live horseracingradio.net most of the year.

Full card selections for the entire Del Mar card are available at Equibase, TrackMaster, TVG and other wagering web sites.